5. Edge of the Moon
6. This World As We Know It

8. Uncle
9. Up In Flames
10. Hope That You'll Stay
11. Home

Maybe more than any of his previous albums, Xavier Rudd's *Dark Shades of Blue is a balance of darkness and light. That's what the Australian singer-songwriter/one-man band/didgeridoo virtuoso hears in the disc.

Produced by Rudd and mixed by Joe Barresi (Tool, Queens of the Stone Age), Dark Shades of Blue finds Rudd at his most assertive, heavy and psychedelic. Dusky and cool, the disc's guitar-driven jams expand on a sound only hinted at on previous releases, as distortion often supplants the pretty jangly guitars heard on earlier work, like 2007's White Moth. While Rudd's signature didgeridoo remains, along with the myriad of instruments and voices featured on other records, the results are less "world music" than they are the makings of a truly global record. The disc's opener, "Black Water" emerges from a "Voodoo Chile"-like beginning, before rising and falling like a mighty sonic wave. The title track is equal parts tempered, fuzzed-out funk, unrestrained Ben Harper and Tool-ish swirls of a groove threatening to explode. There's tension, yes, but also lonely beauty in songs like "Shiver."

The past few years have been a whirlwind for the singer. In between sold-out tours in Europe, Canada, Australia and the U.S., he's supported the likes of the Dave Matthews Band, Jack Johnson and Ben Harper, and has been working on the film score for fellow-surfer and Rudd-enthusiast Matthew McConaughey's Surfer Dude, co-starring Woody Harrelson and Willie Nelson.

George Carlin

It's Bad For Ya

For more than five decades, award-winning comedian, actor, and author George Carlin has used his razor sharp humor to point out hypocrisy in people's actions and words. And now Carlin continues to make audiences laugh and think with the release of his latest CD "It's Bad For Ya," recorded live at the Wells Fargo Center for the Arts in Santa Rosa, California in March 2008. "It's Bad For Ya" features Carlin's noted irreverent observations on such taboo subjects as religion, death, patriotism and big business, as well as pungent examinations of modern language and the "decrepit state of the American culture."

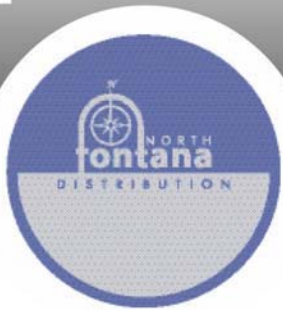

In all, Carlin has released 22 solo albums (18 stand-up albums and 4 audiobooks), which have been nominated for Grammy Awards ten times and taken home the coveted prize four times. In 1972, a recording contract led to the release of "FM" & "AM," an album that went Gold, the first of four successive Gold albums that Carlin recorded for Little David Records during the first half of the 1970's.

Carlin says of his latest CD release, "Doing new stuff is a point of pride with me. People may not consider it so, but stand-up comedy is one of the performing arts, and artists are supposed to grow and evolve over time. Through the years, my technique has sharpened, my writing has improved and even my observations have grown richer. For a person like me, age is an asset." Proud of the fact that every two years he goes out on tour with all new material, Carlin continued, "I can't do old material; I would feel like a failure. this job is that of a writer, but a writer who doesn't produce new work all the time is not a writer -he's a typist."

Grand Ole Party

Grand Ole Party

Track Listing

1. Look Out Young Son
2. Bella Isle
3. Turn On, Burn On
4. INSANE
5. Nasty Habits
6. Bad, Bad Man
7. Redrum Heart
8. Dirty Spirit Rag
9. Gypsy march
10. Troubadour of the Water
11. Savior
12. Roll on Down
13. Radio! (Scientist Remix)

When Kristin Gundred, the lead vocalist of Grand Old Party lets loose with one of her primal blues wails, strong men salivate and weak crawl, as Gundred herself boasts on "Look Out Young Son", the opening track of Humanimals. "I must be the devil's daughter," she sings in a sexy, no holds barred tone, before declaring — "Look out young son, when I bloom you'll come a crawlin'." Grand Ole Party is what used to be called a power trio; Gundred on vocals and drums, dropping a solid, basic heart-thumping groove, Mike Kerchnyak keeping the beat moving forward with his propulsive bass lines and Paul Labno on guitar alternating between short tasty lead lines and clanging, funky comped chords. There isn't a trace of indie rock pretense nor any art rock poses, just solid blues based tunes, driven by Labno's ability to add dramatic guitar flourishes that impress without overwhelming the arrangements and Gundred's voice, a one in a million howl that calls to mind everyone from Mae West, to Bessie Smith, Grace Slick and of course, Janis Joplin.

KEY SELLING POINTS:

- Their debut album, Humanimals, was produced by Blake Sennett of Rilo Kiley
- Playing Pemberton festival in BC on July 25th
- Full media servicing including first single "Look Out Young Son" to specialty programming at rock radio.

After touring constantly for 12 months, Darren Hayes is about to release a stunning live concert DVD of his most ambitious and critically acclaimed concert tour to date: The Time Machine Tour. Quietly selling out London's prestigious Royal Albert Hall, Hayes audaciously toured a show that had more in common with Pink Floyd than American Idol. The show, designed by legendary U2 and Rolling Stones designer Willie Williams featured, amongst other things, a 24 foot animatronics steel and neon origami bird and set pieces straight from a Jules Verne novel. The DVD marks the completion of a project that has seen Hayes graduate from pop star to label head and CEO of his own independent record company. A year before the likes of Radiohead decided to snub major label EMI, Hayes had announced plans to go it alone via his own label Powdered Sugar – releasing his double album This Delicate Thing We've Made with little fanfare. Just great songs, intricate art piece music videos and a blistering live band.

Accountants, managers and suits ties advised him against spending so much of his own money on such a show. But Hayes famously ignored them and took the elaborate production all over the UK and Australia. The DVD was shot in his hometown of Brisbane Australia on the final night of tour. "This was the tour I've always dreamed of. Bowie and Peter Gabriel made the blueprint for this type of rock theatre – and although it sounds morbid, doing a show like this was one of my 'before I die' wishes. I simply had to do something like this once in my life and I couldn't think of a better moment than this period to try," Hayes said.

Kris Kristofferson This Old Road

File: Country Order Due: July 31st, 2008
G.C.: 16 Release Date: Aug 19th, 2008
Box Lot: 30 Label: New West
Format: Vinyl

SELLING POINTS

"One of the finest albums in his storied career." - Rolling Stone

Kris Kristofferson has always identified himself first and foremost as a writer, and true writers know that what works best is giving a piece of themselves to the listener. With This Old Road, Kristofferson lays a chunk of his own soul on every track. This beautifully sparse recording, produced by Don Was, puts an emphasis on his fine lyrics and distinctive voice by featuring Kristofferson, his guitar, and harmonica. Subtle accompaniment is added by Was, longtime sidekick Stephen Bruton and Jim Keltner. The album is so intimate it makes the listener feel as if they are sitting in Kristofferson's living room while he picks and sings just for them.

Delbert McClinton Live

Cat #: NW5015-1 Price Code: S
File: Blues Order Due: July 31st, 2008
G.C.: 04 Release Date: Aug 19th, 2008
Box Lot: 30 Label: New West
Format: Vinyl

SELLING POINTS

"Delbert distills everything he knows about rocking the house-and that's a lot, folks- into these two roof-raising discs."
* Country Weekly

For Delbert McClinton, performing live is what it's all about. And it always has been. As a master harmonica player and vocalist, he has long been one of the world's most electrifying live performers, obliterating any distinction between blues, rock n' roll, soul and country music. His band is so red-hot, they regularly drive audiences into a complete frenzy. Fitting then that this album was recorded live, capturing an extraordinary performance at The Bergen Blues Festival in Norway in 2003. The result is Live, featuring 19 career-spanning songs from his blues origins through 2001's Grammy winning album Nothing Personal and it's Grammy nominated follow-up, Room To Breathe. This album will be released as a four-sided, 2 LP gatefold.

Prince Fatty | Survival Of The Fattest

“Milk and Honey is the lead single from the forthcoming Prince Fatty album...A good time bubbler with horns so warm that the track will need to be stored in a cool box, this is an exceptional slice of soulful reggae that is blowing up in all the right spots at the moment” – One Week To Live

“...A succulent slice of reggae tinged jazz pop with dollops of fruity bass” – Crack Online

“...A producer led outfit put together by Mike Pelanconi (Lily Allen, Little Barrie)...featuring vocals from Little Roy and Hollie Cook from the Slits, this is a beautiful oasis in a desert lacking fine rhythm and roots. Mike and Honey and Curious are beautiful, but it’s the dub work that draws you in.” – Music Week review

Prince Fatty, a group melded for a one off project by producer/engineer Mike Pelanconi (recent credits include Lily Allen’s smash “Alright Still and Little Barrie’s Stand Your Ground) that gained such significant momentum in underground reggae circles that recording a full length album together seemed to be the next logical step. Hitting the recording studio, Pelanconi’s “dream team” worked on tracks, the result being Survival of the Fattest.

The Prince Fatty sound is truly unique. It is designed to dub your feet with rock steady beats and stimulate your brain waves in a jazz like way. Delivered in an up beat, positive and organic funk fashion and mixed in an analog haze of vintage spring reverbs, tape echoes and custom hi-grade mixing console, Prince Fatty won’t disappoint the lovers of the early ‘70s sound but will entice listeners of modern day dub to groove to its beats. Showcasing a guest line up that will make any dub reggae fan giddy which includes legendary drummer Style Scott from Roots Radics, Hammond organ by Bubblers from the infamous Ruff Cut band, Afrobeat star Bukky Leo on sax with Nostalgia 77 Horn Section. Special guest vocals supplied by Little Roy, Winston Francis and Hollie Cook whose stand out vocals are featured on the lead single Mike and Honey (featured on this season on Grey’s Anatomy).

KEY SELLING POINTS:

After continually playing shows throughout the Midwest POP EVIL decided to go into the studio with AI Sutton (Kid Rock) to record. In 2005 the band released their first EP entitled "Ready or Not." Already having sold over 12,000 copies throughout the Mid West the band is ready to release their upcoming debut album. Leigh claims that "It is amazing to see the level of support that we now receive in areas other than our home town (Grand Rapids). Everywhere we go fans know the words to our songs. It feels really good to see people relating to and embracing the music that we have created."
